General Comment

To Whom It May Concern,

I am very much opposed to this potential ruling since it would require my brokerage firm to not allow me to trade options in my IRA account. I use this strategy for income and to create portfolio protection.

I want you to know that I have taken the time to learn proper options trading. Further, options trading has helped me grow my retirement account. My experience has taught me that some option trades reduce risk, rather than increase it.

Thank you.
